Ike's Mideast Doctrine Near Crucial Test

Senate Holds Special Session To Debate President's Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate was called into an unusual Saturday session today with prospects for a crucial test vote by nightfall on President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution.

The test shaped up on an amendment to deny the President the authority he asks to spend up to $200 million in available funds to strengthen the economies and security forces of nations in the area.

Administration forces regard this vote as a major hurdle. In advance of the session, the resolution's supporters expressed confidence the amendment would be rejected by at least 15 votes.

Defeat of the amendment would pave the way for adoption of the resolution by an expected wide margin, probably next week. The Senate has been debating the resolution for two weeks.

In addition to the military-economic aid feature, the resolution would declare a readiness to use American armed forces to block any open Communist aggression in the area, provided a nation under attack asks for such aid and the President deems such a step to be necessary.

AS PASSED overwhelmingly by the House last month, the resolution contained the military-economic aid provisions.

Sponsors of the amendment aimed at stripping the military-economic aid provisions from the resolution are Democratic Sens. Russell of Georgia, Byrd of Virginia, Stennis of Mississippi and Anderson of New Mexico.

However, a number of Democratic senators, as well as many Republicans, are opposed to the amendment.

Sponsors of the amendment contend the $200 million might be only the first installment on a much bigger aid program that they contend could run into billions of dollars. Secretary of State Dulles has sought to reassure them that this is not going to happen.

Police Check Death Bullet In Shootings

TOLEDO (AP)—Police today sought to learn whose bullets killed a construction worker who was wounded after shooting his landlady, a girl and two policemen.

Police at first said the construction worker, Arnold Washington, 39, shot himself in a climax to the wild shooting spree at his rooming house here Friday. Washington died Friday night.

Police scheduled an autopsy today and said it was possible a policeman shot Washington before being critically wounded.

Two patrolmen, Charles Diefenbach, 28, and Irvin Smith, 40, had gone to the rooming house on a complaint by Mrs. Mattie Lewis, 72, who said Washington was running around the house nude.

Washington, fully clothed when the patrolmen arrived, pulled a gun and opened fire on them. Mrs. Lewis was wounded in the lower abdomen. Her niece, Janice Meekins, 15, was shot in the stomach.

Fellow officers found Diefenbach, bleeding from a stomach wound as he crouched behind a cruiser, waiting to get a shot at Washington. Sprawled nearby was patrolman Irvin Smith, 40, only partly conscious with two wounds in his chest and one in each arm.

Trailers Enroute To North Dew Line

DAYTON (AP)—Six giant Globemasters left Wright-Patterson AFB this week with seven 36-foot cold weather trailers for use as quarters and office space on the far north Dew Line.

The trailers' first stop was scheduled for Thule AFB, Greenland. From there they will be transported to the Air Force's Distant Early Warning line, a vast network of radar sites stretching across frozen regions of North America. One of the huge transports was able to load two of the trailers in its spacious cargo compartment.

Senate Probers Seek Chance To Question Teamster Boss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators said today they want to question Teamsters Union Chief Dave Beck and Frank Brewster on whether they offered a $10,000 political contribution in an effort to get a teamsters man on the Oregon Liquor Commission. Charges to that effect were made Friday before the special Senate Rackets Committee by Howard Morgan, Oregon Public Utilities Commissioner and former Democratic state chairman. Morgan said teamsters officials tried to "take over law enforcement" in the entire state of Oregon.

Robert Kennedy, committee counsel, said he wants to ask Beck and Brewster about Morgan's testimony when they appear before the committee.

The hearings are in recess until Tuesday because chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) says "we all need a rest."

Beck is national president of the 1½ million member Teamsters Union, the nation's largest single labor organization. Brewster heads the union's powerful 11-state western conference.

BECK HAS BEEN invited to testify before the special group. He now is in Europe but is due back late this month. Brewster has been cited for contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions in an earlier Senate investigation of alleged tieups between racketeers and some labor union officials.

The special Senate group, now conducting a search for evidence of underworld influence in labor and industry, currently is concentrating on the situation in Portland, Ore.

Morgan testified he was told last September by Manton Spear, teamsters were willing to pay $10,000 into the campaign fund of Democratic gubernatorial nominee Robert Kennedy.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Police today held a 33-year-old mother and her 21-year-old common law husband in a year-old common law husband in connection with the death of Gary Lee Cooper, 4, who died Friday after a severe beating.

Mrs. Irene E. Cooper and Gordon Mason were both held for investigation. Police said Mason admitted beating the child with a strap for misbehavior.

U. S. Hoping For Quick Withdrawal, Resumption Of Suez Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials expressed hope today for speedy removal of Israeli forces from Egypt, and then for quick resumption of negotiations on operation of the Suez Canal.

The Israeli troop issue has been regarded here as the key to breaking the log jam on a number of Middle East problems, foremost among them the future of the canal which Egypt has seized.

Also awaiting solution is the major problem of achieving a stable settlement between Israel and the Arab states and the question of starting repairs on one of the major oil pipelines which runs through Syria. The pipeline was damaged, and the Suez Canal blocked, after the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt last fall.

Secretary of State Dulles and other top officials were described as greatly pleased with Israel's announcement to the United Nations Friday that it had decided to remove its troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area. U. S. officials were hopeful no hitch would develop.

Some estimates here were that if arrangements could be made quickly for U.N. emergency forces to take over in the two areas, Israeli forces could be back behind their own borders in two days. U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammaraskjold issued orders for Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canadian commander of the U. N. force in Egypt, to meet with Israeli army leaders today to arrange for taking over the disputed areas. In Cairo, Burns said Friday night his force is ready to move in quickly behind the withdrawing Israelis.

However, the Israeli government was meeting some internal resistance to its withdrawal decision. The rightwing Herut Freedom party Friday night called in Tel Aviv for nationwide demonstrations today against the decision. The Herut party is the second largest in Israel. Arab envoys who conferred with Dulles Friday came away saying they would "wait and see" how the Israeli withdrawal develops.

The United States was anxious to convince the Arabs it had made no secret promises or concessions to win Israeli agreement to leave the Gaza and Aqaba areas.

This country has taken the position that Israel should make an unconditional withdrawal from the disputed areas. But it has offered assurances of support for moves to prevent any more Egyptian commando attacks on Israel from Gaza and to back efforts to get free navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba, blockaded by the Egyptians for six years before the Is-

'Wait-And-See' View Adopted On Withdrawal

Palestine Government Pledges To Pull Out From Gaza And Aqaba

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Arab delegates to the U. N. took a wary view today of Israel's announcement of its plans for the "full and prompt withdrawal" of Israeli troops from the Gaza Strip and Aqaba coast areas.

"We will see," Abdul Monem Rifa'i of Jordan, chairman of the 27-nation Asian-African bloc in the U. N., said. "First let us find out what happens over the weekend. On Monday our group will have its say."

In Washington, where Secretary of State Dulles sought to convince Arab diplomats that no deal was involved in winning Israel's agreement to pull out of the two areas, nine Arab envoys took a similar view. They reported they would "wait and see."

Rifa'i said his group considered the Asian-Arab resolution in the General Assembly demanding sanctions against Israel for not withdrawing still very much alive. Arab diplomats indicated they would press for adoption of the resolution when the Assembly reconvenes Monday if Israel has not quit both Aqaba and Gaza.

GOLDA MEIR, Israel's foreign minister, made the expected announcement that Israeli troops would withdraw at Friday's Assembly session. While she fixed no conditions for the pullout, she said the decision was made on the assumption that units of the U. N. Emergency Force in Egypt would move into the Gaza and Aqaba areas.

Mrs. Meir emphasized that Israel reserved the right to protect its interests if Egypt should try to resume its ban on Israeli shipping moving through the Gulf of Aqaba to the Israeli port of Eilat or if attacks into Israel from Gaza are renewed.

She called for talks between Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israeli army chief of staff, and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander.

Murder Rap Against Benny To Be Dropped

CHICAGO (AP)—Murder charges against Edward (Benny) Bedwell, accused as the slayer of the two Grimes sisters, are to be dropped, says State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski.

Adamowski said Friday the state will ask dismissal of the charges when Bedwell appears in court Monday. Bedwell, who confessed killing the sisters, Barbara, 15, and Patricia, 13, and then retracted the statement, has been free on $20,000 bond.

"It would be folly to prolong this unfortunate incident beyond that date (Monday)," Adamowski said. Bedwell, in his statement which he later repudiated, said he and another man killed the girls on Jan. 13 after a week of drinking and living in hotels in local Skid Row district.

The girls disappeared from home Dec. 28 after attending a movie. Their naked, frozen bodies were found in a roadside ditch near suburban Willow Springs Jan. 22. Medical reports showed they had died a few hours after leaving home and their death was attributed to exposure to the cold.

Adamowski said although several witnesses have reported seeing Bedwell with the Grimes girls after Jan. 1, "it is my honest conviction that these witnesses are mistaken."

Tiffin Executive Again Ruled Guilty

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorneys for Clifford O. Hansen, 60-year-old head of a Tiffin machinery company, have until March 18 to file for a third trial for Hansen, convicted Friday on income tax fraud charges.

A jury of seven women and five men deliberated about an hour and a half before convicting Hansen on three counts. Internal revenue officials charged that Hansen's personal liabilities in 1945 and 1946 were more than $84,000 and that the Hansen Clutch and Machinery Co. failed to pay about $37,000.

Mumps Fail Halt Nuptials

Bridegroom Gets 'Em, Bride Expecting 'Em

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Don Schanker, who has the mumps, and Judy Kraft, who expects to have them soon, planned to be married today at Don's bedside.

Well, "planned" isn't quite the word for it. Actually, they planned a big church ceremony. But Don's affliction with the mumps vetoed that, so they decided a bedside ceremony would have to do.

Postpone the wedding? Perish the thought. They'd have to get a new marriage license, take blood tests over again—and it's been postponed twice already.

Don, 23, a pharmacist, and Judy, 21, an airplane account clerk, began dating last April. Only four days before he left for Army duty in France.

They became engaged, by mail, in September. In November they met in London to be married. Red tape intervened. Then they tried to get married in Paris, but again they were stalled by regulations.

LAST MONTH Don got out of the Army, came home, found an apartment, got a job and bought a car. He and Judy set the wedding date and booked vacations. All set.

Then Tuesday, Don phoned Judy: "I have the mumps."

Friday doctors told Judy she'll probably get them, too. The incubation period is 14 to 21 days.

A honeymoon, for the time being, is out, but Judy is philosophical. She said: "At least we can spend the time nursing each other."

New England Gets Renewal Of Snowfall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Skies cleared in most of the Atlantic Coast states today after two days of snow and rain, but snow flurries continued in wide areas of New England.

Snowfalls measured three to four inches in parts of southern New England and one to three inches in sections of Pennsylvania and New York. The wet weather had hit areas from northern Virginia to Maine.

Snow flurries fell during the morning in much of the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region. They were expected to continue during the day southward into the Ohio Valley.

Negroes Freed Of Assault Against Cops

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Negroes were acquitted Friday of assault and battery charges involving two white policemen.

The Negroes, Herman K. Humphries, 26, a U.S. Army sergeant, and Robert E. Barbee, 30, a civilian, were accused of attacking off-duty patrolmen Peter J. Hotz and Edward Shaniuk outside a bar Dec. 10.

The trial, in Judge Mary B. Grossman's municipal court, has been watched closely by Cleveland Negro leaders.

Army Sgt. John C. Coleman, in a deposition, said the two patrolmen uttered obscenities at him because he was seated with the Negroes in the tavern. Coleman is white.

The patrolmen said the Negroes attacked them when they left the bar.

Humphries and Barbee said the officers provoked the trouble in the tavern, then slugged them outside and at Central Police Station.

Negro leaders brought a complaint against the patrolmen last December. Police departmental charges were drafted, but action was deferred pending the outcome of the trial. Safety Director John N. McCormick said hearings on suspension charges against the policemen might start soon.

Segregation Fuss Cancels Fair Parade

DADE CITY, Fla. (AP)—Demands that Negroes be excluded from the Pasco County fair parade have caused cancellation of the annual procession next Wednesday.

In previous years Negro units have followed white units in the same parade.

Jury Indicts Solon In Texas

Agreeing To Accept Bribe Is Claimed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—James C. Cox, a member of the Texas House of representatives, was indicted Friday by the Travis County grand jury of "unlawfully, willfully and corruptly" agreeing to accept a $5,000 bribe from Dr. Howard Harmon.

Cox has filed countercharges against Dr. Harmon.

The 36-year-old Conroe, Tex., lawmaker was charged with agreeing to use his influence to kill a bill which, in effect, would have outlawed the practice of naturopathy in Texas.

The indictment accused Cox of agreeing to accept the money from Dr. Harmon, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Assn.

The grand jury action came while a Texas House of Representatives committee conducted its own investigation.

The indictment alleged that on Feb. 29 Cox agreed to accept the money with the understanding the "work of the said James C. Cox would be given and rendered to defeat the passage of HB274."

HOUSE BILL 274 was a proposed act that would have outlawed the practice of naturopathy.

The house committee heard two men testify Cox had said he never intended to keep the $5,000.

A countercharge of bribery was filed in Austin Friday against Dr. Harmon by Cox.

Dr. Harmon had said he rigged a tape recorder in his Austin hotel room and made a recording of the alleged conversation in which Cox asked for the $5,000.

'Wait-And-See' View Adopted On Withdrawal

Palestine Government Pledges To Pull Out From Gaza And Aqaba

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Arab delegates to the U. N. took a wary view today of Israel's announcement of its plans for the "full and prompt withdrawal" of Israeli troops from the Gaza Strip and Aqaba coast areas.

"We will see," Abdul Monem Rifa'i of Jordan, chairman of the 27-nation Asian-African bloc in the U. N., said. "First let us find out what happens over the weekend. On Monday our group will have its say."

In Washington, where Secretary of State Dulles sought to convince Arab diplomats that no deal was involved in winning Israel's agreement to pull out of the two areas, nine Arab envoys took a similar view. They reported they would "wait and see."

Rifa'i said his group considered the Asian-Arab resolution in the General Assembly demanding sanctions against Israel for not withdrawing still very much alive. Arab diplomats indicated they would press for adoption of the resolution when the Assembly reconvenes Monday if Israel has not quit both Aqaba and Gaza.

GOLDA MEIR, Israel's foreign minister, made the expected announcement that Israeli troops would withdraw at Friday's Assembly session. While she fixed no conditions for the pullout, she said the decision was made on the assumption that units of the U. N. Emergency Force in Egypt would move into the Gaza and Aqaba areas.

Mrs. Meir emphasized that Israel reserved the right to protect its interests if Egypt should try to resume its ban on Israeli shipping moving through the Gulf of Aqaba to the Israeli port of Eilat or if attacks into Israel from Gaza are renewed.

She called for talks between Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israeli army chief of staff, and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander.

Murder Rap Against Benny To Be Dropped

CHICAGO (AP)—Murder charges against Edward (Benny) Bedwell, accused as the slayer of the two Grimes sisters, are to be dropped, says State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski.

Adamowski said Friday the state will ask dismissal of the charges when Bedwell appears in court Monday. Bedwell, who confessed killing the sisters, Barbara, 15, and Patricia, 13, and then retracted the statement, has been free on $20,000 bond.

"It would be folly to prolong this unfortunate incident beyond that date (Monday)," Adamowski said. Bedwell, in his statement which he later repudiated, said he and another man killed the girls on Jan. 13 after a week of drinking and living in hotels in local Skid Row district.

The girls disappeared from home Dec. 28 after attending a movie. Their naked, frozen bodies were found in a roadside ditch near suburban Willow Springs Jan. 22. Medical reports showed they had died a few hours after leaving home and their death was attributed to exposure to the cold.

Adamowski said although several witnesses have reported seeing Bedwell with the Grimes girls after Jan. 1, "it is my honest conviction that these witnesses are mistaken."

commander, to work out details of the Israeli withdrawal and the entry of U. N. forces. In Cairo, Burns said his troops could move in quickly as the Israelis withdraw.

In Jerusalem, Israeli officials said Burns and Dayan had planned to meet today at the Lydda airport near Tel Aviv but postponed the talks until Sunday.

In Israel, strong political reaction met the government's decision to pull out the troops. The rightwing Herut party, second largest in the country and main opposition group, called for nationwide demonstrations against the move.

Leaders of the leftist Socialist Schudt Avoda (Labor Unity) party also have renewed an earlier threat to pull their two ministers from Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion's coalition cabinet. A final decision is scheduled to be made at a party meeting Sunday.

In Cairo, Egyptian officials said they would "wait and see" what comes from the Israeli announcement. Most officials who expressed themselves said they wanted to know whether the United States had made any undisclosed promises or concessions to Israel, despite Dulles' disclaimer.

There was general agreement in Cairo that much negotiating still must be done before the Israeli-Egyptian dispute settles down.

TV Producer Is Busy Man With Naval Academy Show

NEW YORK (AP)—It's not a leisurely life when you're producing five television film programs a month in a variety of places. Ask William Castle, producer-director of "Annapolis," the series about life at the Naval Academy.

He describes a typical week thus: First day—Gather half the cast and camera crew in New York and fly in the other half from Hollywood and dash to Annapolis to shoot some sequences.

Second day—Go to the Navy's dairy farm in rural Maryland to shoot scenes of a midshipman having a fight with a bull and then go on to Baltimore for further scenes.

Third day—Fly to Hollywood. Fourth and fifth days—Board a destroyer at San Diego and go to sea for shipboard scenes.

Sixth day—Go to Coronado, Calif., to shoot underwater demolition scenes.

Seventh day—"I finally got home for a little while," said Castle, "and saw my wife. She was getting sore at me because we never seem to see each other any more."

Although Castle's wife may be temporarily irked at him, the Navy isn't. Neither are numerous viewers who enjoy the Ziv-produced series on nearly 100 TV stations around the country.

A board of officers at the academy and a review board in the Navy Department cull and closely scrutinize the series for accuracy. So careful of detail are they, said Castle, that one set had to be pulled down because the grain of the floor was not exactly right.

The Navy's determination for authenticity of fact and detail plus Castle's determination to present interesting dramas produces absorbing television entertainment.

District Address Is Important On Tag Applications

State Auditor James A. Rhodes today reminded motorists to be sure to give their proper taxing district address in making application for 1957 automobile license plates.

"It is important that the proper tax district be listed," Rhodes pointed out, "since 34 percent of what they pay for tags is returned directly to their city, village or township."

It has been estimated that one applicant out of four fails to do this properly.

Applicants were cautioned that their mailing address is not necessarily the proper taxing district address. The name of the city, village or township in which they reside is important so that proper distribution of this money can be made.

Counties Share In Fees From Auto Licenses

Automobile license tag money, totaling $58,109,433.75, was distributed to Ohio's 88 county treasuries during 1956, according to State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Pickaway County's share amounted to $265,890.44.

Income from the sale of the plates is used for the maintenance and repair of highways, roads and streets in the state. The money which went to the various counties is used for these purposes within the counties, their municipalities and townships.

The distribution to the counties and their subdivisions is made on the basis of auto tag registrations by residents of these various subdivisions. This is true regardless of where in the state the plates are bought.

Cuyahoga County received the largest share of this money, $7,635,866.65. Hamilton County was next, with $3,965,380.29, while Franklin County was a close third, with $3,453,028.82.

Summit, Lucas and Montgomery counties each received well over $2 million while Stark, Mahoning, Trumbull and Butler counties got more than a million dollars each.

In Jerusalem, Israeli officials said Ben-Gurion and Dayan had planned to meet today at the Lydda airport near Tel Aviv but postponed the talks until Sunday.

In Israel, strong political reaction met the government's decision to pull out the troops. The rightwing Herut party, second largest in the country and main opposition group, called for nationwide demonstrations against the move.

Leaders of the leftist Socialist Schudut Avoda (Labor Unity) party also have renewed an earlier threat to pull their two ministers from Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion's coalition cabinet. A final decision is scheduled to be made at a party meeting Sunday.

In Cairo, Egyptian officials said they would "wait and see" what comes from the Israeli announcement. Most officials who expressed themselves said they wanted to know whether the United States had made any undisclosed promises or concessions to Israel, despite Dulles' disclaimer.

There was general agreement in Cairo that much negotiating still must be done before the Israeli-Egyptian dispute settles down.

TV Producer Is Busy Man With Naval Academy Show

NEW YORK—It's not a leisurely life when you're producing five television film programs a month in a variety of places. Ask William Castle, producer-director of "Annapolis," the series about life at the Naval Academy. He describes a typical week thus:

First day—Gather half the cast and camera crew in New York and fly in the other half from Hollywood and dash to Annapolis to shoot some sequences.

Second day—Go to the Navy's dairy farm in rural Maryland to shoot scenes of a midshipman having a fight with a bull and then go on to Baltimore for further scenes.

Third day—Fly to Hollywood. Fourth and fifth days—Board a destroyer at San Diego and go to sea for shipboard scenes.

Sixth day—Go to Coronado, Calif., to shoot underwater demolition scenes.

Seventh day—"I finally got home for a little while," said Castle, "and saw my wife. She was getting sore at me because we never seem to see each other any more."

Although Castle's wife may be temporarily irked at him, the Navy isn't. Neither are numerous viewers who enjoy the Ziv-produced series on nearly 100 TV stations around the country.

A board of officers at the academy and a review board in the Navy Department cull and closely scrutinize the series for accuracy. So careful of detail are they, said Castle, that one set had to be pulled down because the grain of the floor was not exactly right.

The Navy's determination for authenticity of fact and detail plus Castle's determination to present interesting dramas produces absorbing television entertainment.

District Address Is Important On Tag Applications

State Auditor James A. Rhodes today reminded motorists to be sure to give their proper tax district address in making application for 1957 automobile license plates.

"It is important that the proper tax district be listed," Rhodes pointed out, "since 34 percent of what they pay for tags is returned directly to their city, village or township."

It has been estimated that one applicant out of four fails to do this properly.

Applicants were cautioned that their mailing address is not necessarily the proper tax district address. The name of the city, village or township in which they reside is important so that proper distribution of this money can be made.

The distribution to the counties and their subdivisions is made on the basis of auto tag registrations by residents of these various subdivisions. This is true regardless of where in the state the plates are bought.

Cuyahoga County received the largest share of this money, $7,635,866.65. Hamilton County was next, with $3,965,380.29, while Franklin County was a close third, with $3,453,028.82.

Archbishop Raps Rock 'n' Roll Fad

CHICAGO (AP)—Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, denounced the use of rock 'n' roll music in youth recreation centers in a Lenten pastoral letter this week.

He described rock 'n' roll music as "tribal rhythms which have a certain vogue in one day. Some new manners of dancing and a throwback to tribalism in recreation cannot be tolerated for Roman Catholic youths."

"When our schools and centers stoop to such things as 'rock and roll' tribal rhythms, they are failing seriously in their duty. God grant that this word will have the effect of banning such things in Roman Catholic recreation."

KEEPING

IN TOUCH

That mail box on the city corner . . . that post office at the country crossroads . . . what would we do without them?

Life is too complex for us to live by ourselves. Man's interests and his welfare reach far beyond the boundaries of his community. Communication with people and corporations hundreds of miles away is a part of modern living that we take for granted. We have to "keep in touch."

But long before life became so complex, men discovered their need for another kind of communication—prayer. The courage and faith and hope which steel men for the challenge of each day come from God. The deep spiritual needs of the soul can be supplied only by keeping in touch with God.

We think our mail-boxes are indispensable! Even so, one church means more to a community than all its postal facilities. For not so long ago men lived very happily without a postal system. But men have never lived happily without God!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Lenten Mite Boxes To Be Presented At St. Philip's Church

St. Philip's Church School members will receive their Lenten Mite Boxes this Sunday morning during a special presentation during the family service at 9 a. m.

Distributed annually on Quinquagesima Sunday, the Lenten Mite Boxes are used by all members of Episcopal Church Schools in this country for the receiving of their Lenten self-denial offerings.

Each member of the school is to deny himself some luxury during the Lenten season and make an offering through use of the Mite Box of the money usually spent on that luxury.

The choice of what "a person gives up for Lent" is an individual matter but is a real part of Lenten observance in the Episcopal Church.

The offering received at St. Philip's Church this Lent will be joined with that received in the Church nationally and will be spent for advancement of the Church's missionary work in Haiti and for the purpose of "Chapels on Wheels" for serving isolated places in the United States.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Drugs May Be Key To Cancer

Drugs are staging a comeback. Not many years ago the air was full of talk about "natural" methods of curing diseases and staying well, without taking noxious "drugs". Those were the days when medicines were likely to be foul-tasting concoctions.

Narcotics, purgatives and strong antiseptics were much used and sometimes did more harm than good. But there have been revolutionary changes in man's knowledge of the chemistry of the body, its enzymes and hormones, and new vistas are beginning to open.

Mental illness, for instance, is accompanied by changes in body chemistry. Cause or effect? This is not known yet, and it may not matter. But the new tranquilizing drugs, which change the chemistry of the body by affecting its balance of hormone production, have raised new hopes.

More experimentation may bring understanding of the chemistry of mental illness and make curing it less a hit-or-miss proposition.

A chemical cure for cancer may also be in the offing. Dr. I. S. Ravdin of Philadelphia, one of the team that operated on the President last year, says so. And 20 surgeons are about to start a nation-wide experiment in the hope of finding such a cure. Medical science knows that cancer is accompanied by internal chemical changes, and it might be cured or arrested by offsetting those changes.

Human guinea pigs will be used. Patients required to undergo surgery for cancer will be offered a chance to volunteer. If they say no, that's that. There may be unknown risks involved in trying new methods on human beings. But there may be new hope of being cured, too, plus the chance to serve humanity by bringing cancer experimentation one step closer to success.

The drugs to be tried have already stopped cancer in the test tube. They have worked more or less successfully on mice and other animals. Now the question of their effect on human beings may be answered.

And there will be volunteers. Most persons like to take a chance. Many will feel that they are doing something worth while for mankind. If people weren't like that, they wouldn't even be trying to cure cancer.

Proposed Law Misses Mark

Two U. S. Senators from New York have introduced a bill to make it unlawful to discriminate in employment because of age. It is difficult to conceive of legislation that would be less desirable.

The measure introduced by Senators Javits and Ives would give to the administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the Labor Department the necessary authority to issue cease and desist orders and to bring about reinstatement or rehiring.

It is considered unlikely that the Javits-Ives bill will be enacted into law, but stranger things have happened. Even the Senators themselves admit that the whole problem of employment for those over 45 cannot be solved by law.

But the New York Senators contend that their measure could serve as a basis for solving the problem. Presumably it could be used to harass employers in connection with seniority, pension and profit-sharing rights which enter into the problem of hiring older workers.

The bill is symptomatic of the growing pressure that may be building up as people live longer and an increasing percentage of citizens are in the over-45 bracket.

More likely to ease the problem in the long run is the anticipated manpower shortages in business and industry in the coming decade. If some of the questions on pensions and other benefits can be worked out, the middle-aged worker may find himself more in demand than seems possible now.

The proposed law should not even be considered as a last resort.

What Price These Victories?

With the exception of the Korean stand-off, the United States has been victorious in every foreign war it ever fought. Even allowing for the Korean stalemate its soldiers have never tasted defeat at the hands of an enemy. But what of its taxpayers? How did they fare while their armies were bowling over all foreign foes?

Since 1940 the United States has distributed to foreign governments more than $100 billion in outright gifts or largely non-recoverable loans. Since the close of World War II these foreign giveaways have run to more than $50 billion and the end is nowhere in sight.

The money the American taxpayers have poured into foreign coffers since 1940 probably exceeds the total amount levied by all history's conquerors against the peoples they subjugated. It's about as much as the combined present debt of all the foreign governments that are getting American aid.

Did someone say that to the victory belong the spoils?

Looking At Defects In U. N.

By George Sokolsky

Senator William F. Knowland, having been made a member of the American delegation to the United Nations, has discovered the five major defects of that organization. They are:

"1. The abuse of the veto power by the Soviet Union.
"2. A growing 'Double Standard' or international morality.
"3. The increasing trend to bloc voting.

"4. An expanding tendency to interfere in the internal affairs of member nations.

"5. Unwillingness of many of the eighty members to equitably share the monetary costs and other obligations of the United Nations and its related activities while insisting on a full and equal voice in the making of decisions, the burdens of which must be assumed by others."

To these I should like to add a sixth, namely, that delegates to that body have come to believe that the United Nations Organization represents something distinct and separate from its members, whereas it is only as effective as the members, the principal members permit it to be.

The veto, which was first proposed by the United States, has turned out to have been an error. Soviet Russia has employed it 80 times, France, four times, Great Britain twice, China once, and the United States never. Five nations only may use the veto. Of these five, the proportion is Soviet Russia — 80; the other four nations seven. Obviously this represents an abuse and a disproportion.

But there is a further abuse in the fact that there are 80 member-states of the United Nations. Of these 80, 75 may never veto a measure, but five have used the veto 87 times and one of them 80 times. The proposition has neither logic nor consistency and must be put down to a mistake.

The Charter of the United Nations can be amended by a two-thirds vote. As the United Nations is now constituted, it is not believed that an amendment to the Charter could gather a two-thirds affirmative vote. Therefore no amendments have been proposed and Soviet Russia can destroy any constructive measure by the use of the veto.

The Double Standard of Morality may be a characteristic of Machiavellian politics. Knowland makes the point:
"The Afro-Asian Bloc voted for prompt action against the British, French and Israeli aggression in Egypt and time after time abstained from voting on the several resolutions relative to Soviet aggression against the people of Hungary."

Perhaps a sharper example is Nehru's imperialism in Kashmir while he is attacking the British and French for their imperialism. Nehru has won a reputation as an idealist, a man of high morality. Actually, he is a politician who functions the same as other politicians with a patina of Gandhism which is essential in his particular country. The Double Standard of Morality can wreck the United Nations because it can make it nothing more than a pragmatic bazaar for international deals.

It is because of this tendency to make a bazaar out of the United Nations that bloc voting developed. For this, all the great powers are responsible. Stalin foresaw the technical advantage of this system and tried to get Roosevelt, at Yalta, to accept all the member republics of the Soviet Union as U.N. members. However, he did manage to get three votes, Russia, the Ukraine and White Russia (Byelorussia).

The Afro-Asian Bloc, organized at the Bandung Conference, really consists of the newly liberated countries led by India. It is a dangerous bloc because it is entirely pragmatic and disregards all principles of international comity. Some of these countries, however, could not quite accept the Soviet brutality

In Hungary and with regard to this one instance broke away from the iron-clad contract to stand together.

It would appear that the smaller countries do not fear war as much as the great powers do. In the first place, once a war became general, the great powers would become involved and would do the fighting. Secondly, a large profit can be made out of the great powers, as enormous profits have been made out of neutralism, the two major powers paying an enormous price for friendship and allegiance.

The United States pays approximately one-third of the total cost of the United Nations. The other 79 nations pay two-thirds. Of these, some pay very little; others evade payments. Some pay in their own currencies which are worth little or nothing.

Storms And Sniffles Linked By A Survey

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

BEWARE of storm fronts. Not only do such conditions mean bad weather, they also might mean bad colds.

A unique joint investigation, made by a private weather forecasting company and a pharmaceutical firm, has revealed that there is a 50 to 75 per cent increase in cases of common colds following closely on the heels of meteorological changes which the weather forecasters call storm fronts.

Definite Link

This seems to establish a definite link between storms and sniffles.

Several factors appear to be involved in the weather's triggering an outbreak of colds.

First, there usually is fair weather and a temperature somewhat above average.

Then there is a sharp drop in temperature, coupled with increased rainfall, wide day-to-night temperature range and higher humidity as well as wind velocity.

Dry Area

If you live in a dry area, the rain, snow, humidity and cloudiness factors are more important than for someone living in a normally wet area.

The joint study, the first of its kind, was conducted in two stages. First, the daily sales of cold tablets were recorded in cities throughout the country. Then weather records for each city were analyzed.

Cold Tablet Sales

The researchers found that sales of cold tablets mushroomed after storm fronts struck the various areas.

What does all this mean to you? Well, for one thing, it enables weather bureaus to predict fairly well in advance the likelihood of an outbreak of colds in specific areas.

More Colds

The National Weather Institute in Los Angeles, which participated in the study, says the Atlanta, Ga., and Miami, Fla., areas can expect to have more cases of colds than usual from now until about March 4.

When the newspaper, radio or television weather reports for your community forecast storm fronts, you can take special precautions to protect yourself against fatigue, chilling and other things which help lower your resistance.

Bill Introduction Deadline Is Tuesday in Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's legislators were back in their hometowns today to put finishing touches on the final batch of bills they can introduce this session.

The bill introduction deadline is Tuesday. Until the last few days it appeared this session's total would fall far short of last year's record 1,355. At the moment the 1957 total is 851.

The pace of bill introduction stepped up considerably this week with 201 offered in the House and Senate.

Deadline day in 1955 saw 434 bills introduced, 91 of which eventually became law.

Only 331 of the total 1955 crop—slightly less than 25 per cent—ever became law.

With the complication of bill introduction out of the way, lawmakers will start action on measures offered earlier.

Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem says the Senate plans to vote on at least one measure a day starting Wednesday. The House already has approved a handful of its own measures and sent them to the Senate.

Interest Thursday centered on a proposal to do away with the stamp system in the collection of Ohio's 3 per cent sales tax.

The sales tax bill faces a highly uncertain future. It was introduced by Reps. Fred Cassel (R-Wyandot), Louis J. Schneider Jr. (R-Hamilton) and Frances McGovern (D-Summit).

They said the change could save the state 11 million badly needed dollars a year. It would be a three-way saving: The cost of printing the stamp, elimination of a 2 per cent discount to vendors and elimination of stamp redemption.

The redemption feature was started in 1939 as an aid to enforcement of the tax collection. Charitable groups have been the principal beneficiaries. They have netted tidy sums by collecting huge batches of the cancelled stamps and redeeming them for 3 per cent of face value. Stamp redemption last year cost the state $4,842,208.

Gov. C. William O'Neill, who clearly doesn't want to be in the position of supporting an indirect tax increase after painting a rosy picture of the state's financial position.

in his budget message, declined comment on the sales tax proposal. But administration sources said O'Neill probably would sign any reasonable version of the sales tax bill, if it ever reaches his desk.

Whether the elimination of the stamp system can pass both houses of the Legislature is a murky question. Indications were it will have a difficult path unless O'Neill gives it his backing.

Another bill proposed to kill off the Underground Parking Commission created by the 1955 Legislature to build a four-million-dollar parking facility for 1,100 cars under the state capitol grounds. It was introduced by Reps. Virgil Perrill (R-Fayette) and Thomas D. Gindlesberger (R-Holmes).

Perrill said he doubted if creation of the commission was legal.

A test case is pending in the Ohio Supreme Court.

The two lawmakers proposed in another bill to spend $50,000 to enlarge existing surface parking lots on the capitol grounds.

Other bills among the 54 introduced Thursday included measures to:

Increase the railroad's share of grade crossing eliminations from 15 to 65 per cent with governmental units' share cut from 85 to 15 per cent.

Limit the income of deputy motor vehicle registrars from license fees to $10,000 a year.

Authorize county commissioners to hire an administrative officer.

Create a health department division to treat alcoholics.

Require the state highway director to be a registered engineer.

Require convicted sex offenders to register within 30 days after moving into a county.

Sees No Immediate Plans For Reinstating Controls

Brazil Plays Bigger Role In Defense of Free World

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—Although President Eisenhower has on four different occasions in six weeks called for voluntary hold-downs on price and wage hikes, the chance of new government controls over the economy is very slight.

Mr. Eisenhower told his Feb. 6 news conference that federal action may become necessary if business firms fail to hold down unnecessary price boosts and if unions and management fail to keep wage rates in line.

However, on the following day, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks said the administration had abolished controls as one of its first acts in 1953, and no plans are contemplated for reinstating them now.

In all of his statements, Mr. Eisenhower emphasized that Americans "abhor" controls. Thus his comments are considered in the nature of a lecture to U. S. business and labor rather than a statement indicating a new government action policy.

DEFENSE PLANS—Brazil is playing an increasing role in plans of the United States for defense of the free world.

Only a month ago, after months of negotiations, the United States obtained agreement for establishment of a tracking station for intercontinental guided missiles on Fernando de Noronha island, just off the northeast coast of Brazil.

The agreement was loudly and vigorously opposed by Communists and ultra-nationalists and at one point the Brazilian government sought economic aid in return for signing the agreements. However, the United States said it would not negotiate on that basis and Brazil finally agreed.

Now the United States has asked Brazil for authority to build, on the northeast coast, a vast communications relay center for military communications with western Europe and the Middle East.

ARMY MODERNIZATION—Despite its trend toward modernization, the Army may have to back down on its recent decision to discontinue the practice of using horses at military funerals and replace them with a motor hearse.

It isn't a matter of world-shaking proportions, but the Army decision has aroused the ire of two groups—veteran congressmen and old-line military men who believe in the traditions of the service.

The recent announcement by Chairman Carl Vinson (D), Georgia, of the powerful House armed services committee, that he favors keeping the horse-drawn artillery caissons at military funerals may play a big role.

The Army wants to dispose of the 17 horses—16 matched grays and one black—on grounds that a motor hearse is cheaper. It would cut funeral costs at Arlington National Cemetery, the Army says, from $71,083 a year to $9,350.

STENNIS FACES FIGHT—A firebrand member of the House is reported to be setting his political sights for the seat now held by Senator John Stennis (D), Mississippi. He is Rep. John Bell Williams (D), Mississippi, who bolted the Democrats last year and ran for vice president on the States' Rights party ticket.

Williams is expected to announce his candidacy for the Senate seat some time before the 1958 congressional elections when Stennis, it is anticipated, will seek re-election.

Friends of Stennis recognize in Williams a formidable foe. The one-armed World War II veteran is a staunch supporter of segregation and has vigorously denounced on the House floor and elsewhere the Supreme Court's school decision.

It would appear that the smaller countries do not fear war as much as the great powers do. In the first place, once a war became general, the great powers would become involved and would do the fighting. Secondly, a large profit can be made out of the great powers, as enormous profits have been made out of neutralism, the two major powers paying an enormous price for friendship and allegiance.

Storms And Sniffles Linked By A Survey

BEWARE of storm fronts. Not only do such conditions mean bad weather, they also might mean bad colds.

A unique joint investigation, made by a private weather forecasting company and a pharmaceutical firm, has revealed that there is a 50 to 75 per cent increase in cases of common colds following closely on the heels of meteorological changes which the weather forecasters call storm fronts.

Definite Link

This seems to establish a definite link between storms and sniffles.

Several factors appear to be involved in the weather's triggering an outbreak of colds.

First, there usually is fair weather and a temperature somewhat above average.

Then there is a sharp drop in temperature, coupled with increased rainfall, wide day-to-night temperature range and higher humidity as well as wind velocity.

Dry Area

If you live in a dry area, the rain, snow, humidity and cloudiness factors are more important than for someone living in a normally wet area.

The joint study, the first of its kind, was conducted in two stages. First, the daily sales of cold tablets were recorded in cities throughout the country. Then weather records for each city were analyzed.

Cold Tablet Sales

The researchers found that sales of cold tablets mushroomed after storm fronts struck the various areas.

What does all this mean to you? Well, for one thing, it enables weather bureaus to predict fairly well in advance the likelihood of an outbreak of colds in specific areas.

More Colds

The National Weather Institute in Los Angeles, which participated in the study, says the Atlanta, Ga., and Miami, Fla., areas can expect to have more cases of colds than usual from now until about March 4.

When the newspaper, radio or television weather reports for your community forecast storm fronts, you can take special precautions to protect yourself against fatigue, chilling and other things which help lower your resistance.

Answer: Because of the use of the new antibiotic drugs. Symptoms do not progress to the severe stage which requires operations.

Bill Introduction Deadline Is Tuesday in Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ohio's legislators were back in their hometowns today to put finishing touches on the final batch of bills they can introduce this session.

The bill introduction deadline is Tuesday. Until the last few days it appeared this session's total would fall far short of last year's record 1,355. At the moment the 1957 total is 851.

The pace of bill introduction stepped up considerably this week with 201 offered in the House and Senate.

Deadline day in 1955 saw 434 bills introduced, 91 of which eventually became law.

Only 331 of the total 1955 crop—slightly less than 25 per cent—ever became law.

With the complication of bill introduction out of the way, lawmakers will start action on measures offered earlier.

Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem says the Senate plans to vote on at least one measure a day starting Wednesday. The House already has approved a handful of its own measures and sent them to the Senate.

Interest Thursday centered on a proposal to do away with the stamp system in the collection of Ohio's 3 per cent sales tax.

The sales tax bill faces a highly uncertain future. It was introduced by Reps. Fred Cassel (R-Wyandot), Louis J. Schneider Jr. (R-Hamilton) and Frances McGovern (D-Summit).

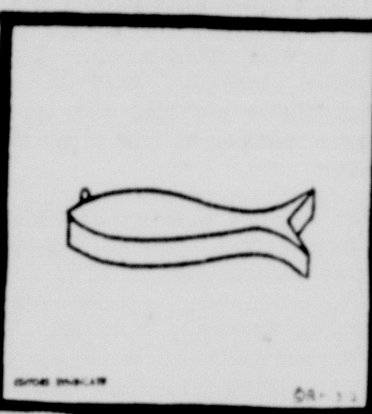

They said the change could save the state 11 million badly needed dollars a year. It would be a three-way saving: The cost of printing the stamp, elimination of a 2 per cent discount to vendors and elimination of stamp redemption.

The redemption feature was started in 1939 as an aid to enforcement of the tax collection. Charitable groups have been the principal beneficiaries. They have netted tidy sums by collecting huge batches of the cancelled stamps and redeeming them for 3 per cent of face value. Stamp redemption last year cost the state $4,842,208.

Gov. C. William O'Neill, who clearly doesn't want to be in the position of supporting an indirect tax increase after painting a rosy picture of the state's financial position.

tion in his budget message, declined comment on the sales tax proposal. But administration sources said O'Neill probably would sign any reasonable version of the sales tax bill, if it ever reaches his desk.

Whether the elimination of the stamp system can pass both houses of the Legislature is a murky question. Indications are it will have a difficult path unless O'Neill gives it his backing.

Another bill proposed to kill off the Underground Parking Commission created by the 1955 Legislature to build a four-million-dollar parking facility for 1,100 cars under the state capitol grounds. It was introduced by Reps. Virgil Perrill (R-Fayette) and Thomas D. Gindesberger (R-Holmes).

Perrill said he doubted if creation of the commission was legal.

A test case is pending in the Ohio Supreme Court.

The two lawmakers proposed in another bill to spend $50,000 to enlarge existing surface parking lots on the capitol grounds.

Other bills among the 54 introduced Thursday included measures to:

Increase the railroad's share of grade crossing eliminations from 15 to 65 per cent with governmental units' share cut from 85 to 15 per cent.

Limit the income of deputy motor vehicle registrars from license fees to $10,000 a year.

Require the state highway director to be a registered engineer.

Require convicted sex offenders to register within 30 days after moving into a county.

MARCH OF EVENTS

Sees No Immediate Plans For Reinstating Controls

Brazil Plays Bigger Role In Defense of Free World

SPECIAL TO CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION
WASHINGTON—Although President Eisenhower has on four different occasions in six weeks called for voluntary hold-downs on price and wage hikes, the chance of new government controls over the economy is very slight.

Mr. Eisenhower told his Feb. 6 news conference that federal action may become necessary if business firms fail to hold down unnecessary price boosts and if unions and management fail to keep wage rates in line.

However, on the following day, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks said the administration had abolished controls as one of its first acts in 1953, and no plans are contemplated for reinstating them now.

In all of his statements, Mr. Eisenhower emphasized that Americans "abhor" controls. Thus his comments are considered in the nature of a lecture to U. S. business and labor rather than a statement indicating a new government action policy.

DEFENSE PLANS—Brazil is playing an increasing role in plans of the United States for defense of the free world.

Only a month ago, after months of negotiations, the United States obtained agreement for establishment of a tracking station for intercontinental guided missiles on Fernando de Noronha island, just off the northeast coast of Brazil.

The agreement was loudly and vigorously opposed by Communists and ultra-nationalists and at one point the Brazilian government sought economic aid in return for signing the agreements. However, the United States said it would not negotiate on that basis and Brazil finally agreed.

Now the United States has asked Brazil for authority to build, on the northeast coast, a vast communications relay center for military communications with western Europe and the Middle East.

ARMY MODERNIZATION—Despite its trend toward modernization, the Army may have to back down on its recent decision to discontinue the practice of using horses at military funerals and replace them with a motor hearse.

It isn't a matter of world-shaking proportions, but the Army decision has aroused the ire of two groups—veteran congressmen and old-line military men who believe in the traditions of the service. The recent announcement by Chairman Carl Vinson (D, Georgia), of the powerful House armed services committee, that he favors keeping the horse-drawn artillery caissons at military funerals may play a big role.

The Army wants to dispose of the 17 horses—16 matched grays and one black—on grounds that a motor hearse is cheaper. It would cut funeral costs at Arlington National Cemetery, the Army says, from $71,053 a year to $9,350.

STENNIS FACES FIGHT—A frebrand member of the House is reported to be setting his political sights for the seat now held by Senator John Stennis (D, Mississippi). He is Rep. John Bell Williams (D, Mississippi), who bolted the Democrats last year and ran for vice president on the States' Rights party ticket.

Williams is expected to announce his candidacy for the Senate seat some time before the 1958 congressional elections when Stennis, it is anticipated, will seek re-election.

Friends of Stennis recognize in Williams a formidable foe. The one-armed World War II veteran is a staunch supporter of segregation and has vigorously denounced on the House floor and elsewhere the Supreme Court's school decision.

Star Grange Entertains 70 At Open House Event

Charles Brown Talks On Turkey

Seventy members and friends attended Star Grange open house, Tuesday evening, in Monroe School.

Worthy Master Harold Furniss welcomed everyone and officers filled their chairs in a mock meeting.

The evening's program started with the opening of the Bible by the assistants, prayer by the Chaplain, and the salute to the flag.

Miss Nancy Neff read of the many things the Grange has done for the local school and community. She stressed the fact that the Grange is a farm Fraternity, whose members are interested in agriculture, and in the material, social and spiritual advancement of themselves and all mankind. It is a family organization seeking to improve home life on the family type farm. Star Grange has helped the school in their different projects, have donated time to help in county fair activities, given to all charitable organizations, and helped the needy families in the community.

A short skit "Peach Pie" was presented by Margaret and Jeanette Brigner.

Ethel Furniss, Margaret Reid and Arlena See built the Grange emblem while telling the story of the lives of the seven founders of the order, the story of the symbol of the sheaf of wheat, the P of H., and the Grange. The emblem was made. The Grange Hymn was sung by all to add a grand finale to the story of how the Grange started.

Lecturer, Margaret Anderson, presenting the program for the evening, told of the purposes of Grange programs to bring out informative, entertaining, and educational needs of local people. She reminded everyone in their purchase of new tags for the coming year to be sure to give their correct taxing district so each township will get their fair share of tax.

Everyone discovered they could sing by acting out the novelty tune of "The Noble Duke of York".

Mr. Charles Brown, of William sport was introduced and gave a most interesting and educational report on his recent trip to Turkey. He showed the different contrast of living—well to do and average people, the difference in farming—modern equipment and the old methods of manual labor, their chief exports of growing such as grapes, figs, dates and wheat. He finished his talk with a picture of the statue of Liberty and told that he could really count his blessings that he had been born an American citizen.

Cookies and coffee were served by the Grange and the rest of the evening was well spent in visiting with neighbors and friends.

The next meeting will be March with the county youth as guests. They will present the drill and degree that are practicing for the district contest, which will be held at Star Friday, March 29. All Grangers are welcomed to attend either of these meetings.

FUR-TRIMMED STOLE in cable knit wool was featured by William Fox for his winter collection. In black with black fox, it combines with an Empire sheath in dark gray worsted. The cuffs, collar and shirt-type closing are outlined with black silk grosgrain.

Household Hints

Use cleaning fluids only in a well-ventilated space.

Do you have fabric left over from cotton curtains or drapes? Whip it up into an apron if you want to "match" your kitchen or other room.

A small amount of chicken stock leftover? Cook crescents of celery in it, then dress the vegetables with melted butter.

Ever add chopped or coarsely grated raw apple to muffin or waffle batter?

Try adding slices of pimiento-stuffed olives to your toasted cheese sandwich—interesting blend of flavors.

For lunch boxes: put two deviled egg halves back together and fasten with a toothpick before wrapping.

Never wash silk lamp shades if they have been glued!

Egyptian Cotton Featured In Spring-Summer Gloves

Many of the smart looking gloves designed for Spring and Summer wear are frankly fabric. But that does not detract from their look of elegance, for they are expertly cut and made of the finest of Egyptian cotton to give that lady-fingered effect.

The colors this year are particularly intriguing, including, as they do, not only the basic hues but many delightful new shades, such as light bisquit, palest silver gray, pink lady and boy blue.

For example, delicate French embroidery typifies gloves from the Parisian Spring collections. Made of imported Egyptian cotton, they feature the new length, and their edges are delicately scalloped.

The gauntlets shown above are another innovation with their applique work. These spanking white fabric gloves have a flower and leaf motif in a very airy manner that is chic and comfortable. They are perfect for wear with Summer dresses or with navy or black outfits.

Shorties cuffed in a V design come in all the latest exciting colors. Rows and rows of French knots completely dot the back of these gloves.

Of course, all of the gloves are guaranteed to be easily washable, shrink-proof and color-fast.

Schedule Keeps Working Wife Chic, Efficient

Can you do two things at once? The answer to this question, for some women, at least, is Yes. The gals referred to are those products of the 20th century called working wives.

All over the country there are many more of them than ever before.

Invariably, they do two things—work and keep house—and do them well. They are gals who always look chic and efficient at the office, who manage chores like shopping and cleaning with ease.

How do they do it? One word tells the story: System!

Take one such gal as a case history.

Her name is Alice, she is a receptionist and, needless to say, her job is one in which appearance counts for a great deal.

Alice begins her day at 7 a. m. This gives her 1½ hours to get breakfast for her husband, clear up the few dishes, do 15 minutes of setting-up exercises so she will hold that trim figure line, and manage a complete and thorough make-up job.

She could sleep later and allow less time for beauty, but Alice has wisely discovered that a good make-up job in the morning carries her through the day. As for the exercises, they are vital, she says, and if they were not done in the a. m. she knows she would be too tired to tackle them at day's end.

Thursday, barring an unexpected social engagement, is beauty night.

The entire evening is devoted to grooming—shampoo, set, facial, manicure, pedicure. It is also the night when she checks clothes, assembles things for cleaners, laundry and shoemaker.

How about her housework and shopping?

The main part of both are done on Saturday—just another working (but at-home) day for this busy gal.

During the week, she makes one or two quick after-work trips to the stores to replenish supplies. Also during the week, she spends probably half an hour each night on light cleaning—mostly straightening up.

With only two adults in the household, her Saturday cleaning stint holds up pretty well through the week.

William Ammer Installs Officers At Group's Meet

Prosecuting Attorney, William Ammer, guest for the luncheon meeting of the Pickaway County Women's Republican Club, installed newly elected officers, when the group met in the home of Mrs. B. T. Hedges of Watt St.

The following officers were installed: Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, president; Mrs. H. E. Louis, vice-president; Mrs. J. B. Work, secretary; and Mrs. James Greenwood, corresponding secretary.

Mr. Ammer gave a talk on the many duties of the Office of a Prosecuting Attorney.

Mrs. William Whitehead, who with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hinkle, Chillicothe, attended festivities of the Inaugural in Washington, D. C., gave an interesting account of her trip and showed many clippings and keep-sakes.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. J. B. Work, Mrs. L. E. Foreman and Mrs. C. P. Heiskell.

Arrangements are under way for a tour of the Ohio Legislature, March 27. This trip is to take the place of the regular March meeting. Reservations for the luncheon should be made with Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, Telephone 3161.

JEWEL-TONED BUTTONS distinguish this casual, double-breasted tweed coat—from the Originala collection. The buttons are fashioned of bronze-colored steel and topaz to accent the honey-brown tones of the tweed.

FROM A COLLECTION by Ceil Chapman was shown this short formal dress with the princess line in a white silk satin applied with blue satin leaves. The bodice is draped with twists of blue and white satin. High school and college girls will love this model.

Star Grange Entertains 70 At Open House Event

Charles Brown Talks On Turkey

Seventy members and friends attended Star Grange open house, Tuesday evening, in Monroe School.

Worthy Master Harold Furniss welcomed everyone and officers filled their chairs in a mock meeting.

The evening's program started with the opening of the Bible by the assistants, prayer by the Chaplain, and the salute to the flag.

Miss Nancy Neff read of the many things the Grange has done for the local school and community. She stressed the fact that the Grange is a farm Fraternity, whose members are interested in agriculture, and in the material, social and spiritual advancement of themselves and all mankind. It is a family organization seeking to improve home life on the family type farm. Star Grange has helped the school in their different projects, have donated time to help in county fair activities, given to all charitable organizations, and helped the needy families in the community.

A short skit "Peach Pie" was presented by Margaret and Jeanette Brigner.

Ethel Furniss, Margaret Reid and Arlene See built the Grange emblem while telling the story of the lives of the seven founders of the order, the story of the symbol of the sheaf of wheat, the P of H, and the Grange. The emblem was made. The Grange Hymn was sung by all to add a grand finale to the story of how the Grange started.

Lecturer, Margaret Anderson, presenting the program for the evening, told of the purposes of Grange programs to bring out informative, entertaining, and educational needs of local people. She reminded everyone in their purchase of new tags for the coming year to be sure to give their correct taxing district so each township will get their fair share of tax.

Everyone discovered they could sing by acting out the novelty tune of "The Noble Duke of York".

Mr. Charles Brown, of Williamsport was introduced and gave a most interesting and educational report on his recent trip to Turkey. He showed the different contrast of living—well to do and average people, the difference in farming—modern equipment and the old methods of manual labor, their chief exports of growing such as grapes, figs, dates and wheat. He finished his talk with a picture of the statue of Liberty and told that he could really count his blessings that he had been born an American citizen.

Cookies and coffee were served by the Grange and the rest of the evening was well spent in visiting with neighbors and friends.

The next meeting will be March 9 with the county youth as guests. They will present the drill and degree that are practicing for the district contest, which will be held at Star Friday, March 29. All Grangers are welcomed to attend either of these meetings.

FUR-TRIMMED STOLE in cable knit wool was featured by William Fox for his winter collection. In black with black fox, it combines with an Empire sheath in dark gray worsted. The cuffs, collar and shirt-type closing are outlined with black silk grosgrain.

Stoutsville Scene Of Nuptial Rites For Adams-Peters

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Adams of Stoutsville Route 1 are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Betty L., to Pfc. Ned R. Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Peters of Stoutsville Route 1.

The double ring ceremony was performed February 9 in the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. A. B. Meyer of Stoutsville.

The bride was attired in a dusty pink suit with blue accessories and carried a Bible topped with white carnations and tiny pink carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John D. Adams, sister-in-law of the bride. She wore a beige outfit with black accessories. Her flowers were red and white striped carnations.

Mr. John D. Adams, brother of the bride, served as best man for the bridegroom.

A reception was held following the ceremony. Mrs. Adams, mother of the bride, was attired in a navy blue dress with white and beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Peters wore navy blue with white and black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations with small white asters.

Hostesses for the reception were: Miss Patricia Peters and Miss Danielle Boil.

The couple took a short honeymoon trip and returned to spend a week with relatives and friends before leaving for Anchorage, Alaska, where Pfc. Peters is stationed at Ft. Richardson.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Peters are graduates of Stoutsville High School.

Previous to her wedding, Mrs. Peters, former Betty Adams, was honored at a miscellaneous shower, given by Mrs. John D. Adams.

Games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. George Meyers, Mrs. Chester Posnaugh and Miss Evelyn Reichelderfer. They presented their prizes to the honored guest.

Mrs. Peters opened her gifts under an umbrella decorated in pink, white and green with streamers extending to tables where gifts were placed. The color scheme was carried out in the lunch served at the close of the evening.

Those attending the event were: Miss Adams, honored guest, Mrs. Ralph Adams, Mrs. Emil Peters, Miss Sue Hill, Miss Patricia Peters, Miss Sharon Lynch, Mrs. Lewis Lynch, Mrs. George Meyers, Miss Cathrine Adams, Miss Elsie Adams, Miss Evelyn Reichelderfer, Mrs. Ray Peters, Mrs. Ross Good, Miss Martha Hart, Miss Linda Creeger, Mrs. Rupert Welliver, Miss Cindy Welliver, all of Stoutsville.

Mrs. Robert Neff, Master Mike and Master Bruce Neff, of Columbus, Mrs. Chester Posnaugh of Ashville, Mrs. Dickie Peters, Master Mike Peters and Mrs. Donald Farmer of Amanda, and the hostesses.

Gifts were sent by: Mrs. Carl Wetherall, Mrs. Lulu Hardsack, Mrs. Othia Martin, Mrs. Lewell Archer, Miss Lois Hartman, Miss Thelma Hartman, Mrs. Jack LaRue, Mrs. Mae Shoemaker and Mrs. Raymond Arledge.

Household Hints

Use cleaning fluids only in a well-ventilated space.

Do you have fabric left over from cotton curtains or drapes? Whip it up into an apron if you want to "match" your kitchen or other room.

A small amount of chicken stock leftover? Cook crescents of celery in it, then dress the vegetables with melted butter.

Ever add chopped or coarsely grated raw apple to muffin or waffle batter?

Try adding slices of pimiento-stuffed olives to your toasted cheese sandwich—interesting blend of flavors.

For lunch boxes: put two deviled egg halves back together and fasten with a toothpick before wrapping.

Never wash silk lamp shades if they have been glued!

Social Happenings

Egyptian Cotton Featured In Spring-Summer Gloves

Many of the smart looking gloves designed for Spring and Summer wear are frankly fabric. But that does not detract from their look of elegance, for they are expertly cut and made of the finest of Egyptian cotton to give that lady-fingered effect.

The colors this year are particularly intriguing, including, as they do, not only the basic hues but many delightful new shades, such as light bisquit, palest silver gray, pink lady and boy blue.

For example, delicate French embroidery typifies gloves from the Parisian Spring collections. Made of imported Egyptian cotton, they feature the new length, and their edges are delicately scalloped.

The gauntlets shown above are another innovation with their applique work. These spanking white fabric gloves have a flower and leaf motif in a very airy manner that is chic and comfortable. They are perfect for wear with Summer dresses or with navy or black outfits.

Shorties cuffed in a V design come in all the latest exciting colors. Rows and rows of French knots completely dot the back of these gloves.

Of course, all of the gloves are guaranteed to be easily washable, shrink-proof and color-fast.

PTO Of Atlanta Meets In School

The February meeting of the Atlanta Parent-Teacher Organization was held in the school with president, Robert Bartel, in charge of the business session.

The meeting was opened with the group repeating "The Lord's Prayer."

Reports were given and plans were made to hold a fish supper in March. Committee members are Mrs. Ethel Gerhardt, Mrs. Harry Morris and Mrs. Donald Kempton.

The group is also planning a card party, to be held in March.

Mrs. Norman Mouser was in charge of the program. She announced Larry Shaeffer, who gave a recitation, Jimmy Rowland gave a clarinet solo, after which a vocal quartet, composed of Judy Patterson, Wynonia Bennett, Betty Jo Jordan and Peggy Nelson, presented several selections.

Baton twirling was given by Patty Penwell, Jane Ann Curry and Gretchen Donohoe.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Alfred Nelson and her committee.

Schedule Keeps Working Wife Chic, Efficient

Can you do two things at once? The answer to this question, for some women, at least, is Yes. The gals referred to are those products of the 20th century called working wives.

All over the country there are many more of them than ever before.

Invariably, they do two things—work and keep house—and do them well. They are gals who always look chic and efficient at the office, who manage chores like shopping and cleaning with ease.

How do they do it? One word tells the story: System!

Take one such gal as a case history.

Her name is Alice, she is a receptionist and, needless to say, her job is one in which appearance counts for a great deal.

Alice begins her day at 7 a. m. This gives her 1½ hours to get breakfast for her husband, clear up the few dishes, do 15 minutes of setting-up exercises so she will hold that trim figure line, and manage a complete and thorough make-up job.

She could sleep later and allow less time for beauty, but Alice has wisely discovered that a good make-up job in the morning carries her through the day. As for the exercises, they are vital, she says, and if they were not done in the a. m. she knows she would be too tired to tackle them at day's end.

Thursday, barring an unexpected social engagement, is beauty night.

The entire evening is devoted to grooming—shampoo, set, facial, manicure, pedicure. It is also the night when she checks clothes, assembles things for cleaners, laundry and shoemaker.

How about her housework and shopping?

The main part of both are done on Saturday—just another working (but at-home) day for this busy gal.

During the week, she makes one or two quick after-work trips to the stores to replenish supplies. Also during the week, she spends probably half an hour each night on light cleaning—mostly straightening up.

With only two adults in the household, her Saturday cleaning stint holds up pretty well through the week.

William Ammer Installs Officers At Group's Meet

Prosecuting Attorney, William Ammer, guest for the luncheon meeting of the Pickaway County Women's Republican Club, installed newly elected officers, when the group met in the home of Mrs. B. T. Hedges of Watt St.

The following officers were installed: Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, president; Mrs. H. E. Louis, vice-president; Mrs. J. B. Work, secretary; and Mrs. James Greenwood, corresponding secretary.

Mr. Ammer gave a talk on the many duties of the Office of a Prosecuting Attorney.

Mrs. William Whitehead, who with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hinkle, Chillicothe, attended festivities of the Inaugural in Washington, D. C., gave an interesting account of her trip and showed many clippings and keep-sakes.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. J. B. Work, Mrs. L. E. Foreman and Mrs. C. P. Heiskell.

Arrangements are under way for a tour of the Ohio Legislature, March 27. This trip is to take the place of the regular March meeting. Reservations for the luncheon should be made with Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, Telephone 3161.

Bright, Sparkling Eyes Are Pretty

Blue eyes, brown eyes, green eyes—all are pretty, if they are bright and sparkling and if make-up is used to emphasize them.

Eye shadow plays eye color. Mascara darkens lashes, makes them dramatic frames for the eyes. Pencil shapes the brows prettily.

But all these make-up aids will not help if eyes are tired, lack lustre and sparkle. You can't expect eyes to be pretty if you skip on sleep. Proper rest is essential to beauty. Without it, eyes are bound to look tired.

Close work also tires eyes. That is why it's a good idea to give them an occasional rest.

Shut them for a minute or two. Try gazing at a faraway object, then switch your glance to something close at hand. It is an exercise that will relax eyes.

Ask your doctor or recommend an eye wash or drops that will freshen tired eyes, bring back some of that sparkle after a long day of close work, reading, sewing, or such. You may also find it helpful to use after a session before the TV screen. Watching TV tires the eyes because it converges the eye steadily for a long period.

Watch the way you read, too. Experts advise a 100-watt bulb about 20 inches from the page, with the light coming over a shoulder. Avoid glare—it strains eyes more than insufficient light.

Take care of your eyes and they will always look bright. At the first hint that sight is not at all it might be, head for the oculist and have a check-up. If glasses are needed, by all means wear them.

JEWEL-TONED BUTTONS distinguish this casual, double-breasted tweed coat—from the Originals collection. The buttons are fashioned of bronze-colored steel and topaz to accent the honey-brown tones of the tweed.

FROM A COLLECTION by Ceil Chapman was shown this short formal dress with the princess line in a white silk satin appliqued with blue satin leaves. The bodice is draped with twists of blue and white satin. High school and college girls will love this model.

North Carolina Undeclared In Entire Season

Duke Is Final Victim
Of Nation's No. 1
College Cage Outfit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
They're not just a - whistlin' Dixie down in North Carolina today. They're shouting it from the rooftops, loud and clear.

The reason for the waving of the Stars and Bars? The University of North Carolina's basketball team, naturally. The Tar Heels, ranked first in the nation, swept through their regularly scheduled 24-game season undefeated. It was the first such season since 1924.

Victim No. 24 tumbled Friday night when Duke lost to the McGuinness in an Atlantic Coast Conference spine-tingler, 86-72.

While North Carolina was cementing a 13-0 record in ACC play, other conferences were busy with pressing matters.

In the Southern Conference, West Virginia, playing without ailing Rod Hundley, stumbled to a 77-75 victory over George Washington to finish its regular season unbeaten in family play.

In the Southeastern, Tulane spanked Louisiana State 59-51 and Alabama trimmed Auburn 81-79. That left Tulane, Georgia Tech and Mississippi State in a final three-way tie for third place in the SEC with 9-5 records. Auburn finished in sixth with an 8-6 mark; Alabama took seventh place with a 7-7 record. LSU's 1-13 SEC record was the worst in the career of Coach Harry Rabenhorst, who is retiring after 29 years with the Tigers.

Brigham Young stopped New Mexico 67-41 to clinch at least a tie for the Skyline Conference crown. The title will be at stake tonight, along with a berth in the NCAA regional tournament in Corvallis, Ore., when BYU plays Denver. Denver's title hopes disappeared Friday night when Utah State beat the Pioneers 64-60. And Montana kept in the running for a share of the title by spilling Wyoming 81-78, while Utah was downing Colorado A&M 74-64.

UCLA regained the hotly contested lead in the Pacific Coast Conference, nosing out California 71-66. That left UCLA with a 12-2 conference record to California's 11-2 going into another game between the rivals tonight in Berkeley. A UCLA victory tonight will give the Bruins at least a tie for the conference title. In another PPC battle, Southern California defeated Oregon 87-82.

Jenkins Family Keeping Monopoly

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — The men's singles title of the world figure skating championship will, in all probability, remain in the United States with the Jenkins family.

Never before has a skater succeeded his brother as world titlist, but David Jenkins, 20-year-old collegian, holds a solid advantage going into tonight's free skating finals. Should he win, he'll take over from his brother, Hayes Alan, who retired after four years at the top.

Garcia Depends On Knuckle Ball

TUCSON, Ariz. — A knuckle ball which he developed last season may help Mike Garcia regain the form he displayed in 1952 when he won 22 games.

When he arrived in training camp here Friday he said the knuckle ball could make him a 20-game winner this year.

Tigers Earn Second Win In District Cage Tourney

Surge In Final Half Downs Westerville, 54-42;
Next Test Slated Monday With Columbus East

Circleville's cage Tigers registered their second victory in the Central District Class "AA" basketball tournament and a berth in the semi-finals by posting a 52-44 win over Westerville last night at Denison University in Granville.

By virtue of their big victory the Tigers will meet the powerful cagers of Columbus East High School Monday night at Denison. The Columbus squad also won last night, gaining a 65-55 decision over Gahanna Lincoln.

Circleville's victory over Westerville's Wildcats was due mainly to a valiant second half uphill struggle which saw the Tigers overcome a serious 23 to 15 halftime deficit that had local fans worried.

However, the CHS cagemen roared in the third quarter with a sudden rally that completely stunned the Westerville cagers for the remainder of the game.

APPARENTLY fired up by a halftime briefing by Coach Red Courtney, the Roundtowners really got down to business shortly after the last half tip-off as they outscored their opponents 23-9 in the third frame, good enough for a 38 to 32 lead.

Not to be denied, the locals continued their relentless attack in the final period to again outscore the Wildcats, 14 to 12, to preserve a well-earned decision.

Just as Circleville dominated play in the second half, it was all Westerville the first two quarters as the score well-indicated.

For the first few minutes of play the Tigers were unable to buy a basket. To make things worse they missed their first five foul shot attempts.

Westerville jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead on three foul shots by Ron Meyer and a side shot by Neal Billman. Bob Fraser put Circleville in the scoring column with a jump shot from underneath.

For the remainder of the quarter the best Circleville could do was a tip in by Jon Parcher. Westerville, meanwhile, racked up six more tallies for a 11-4 lead.

THE Tigers did a little better in the second quarter, collecting 11 points, compared to 12 for their opponents. Bill Johnson proved to be the mainstay in this quarter for the locals as he hit for eight points.

For Westerville it was Billman and Meyer leading the way in the scoring department. After gaining what seemed to be a comfortable lead, the Wildcats suddenly switched tactics to go into a stall which made things difficult for the Tigers as far as scoring was concerned.

Although the Tigers were not impressive in the first half, they suddenly turned the tables in the third frame when Johnson, Krinn, Hosler and Fraser all combined to give the locals a potent scoring punch.

Johnson got things started for Circleville with two buckets from underneath, Krinn followed suit with a long one and Mike Hosler then proceeded to break things wide open as he collected six straight points to put the Tigers in front for the first time, 27 to 26.

Fraser got into the act by dropping in a two-pointer after stealing the ball from an opponent.

However, Westerville regained the lead, 32-31, a few moments later when Billman swished a jump shot and Bill Schneider added a bucket and two foul shots.

HOSLER then pushed Circleville in front again on a long one-hander which made the score 33 to 32. By the time the third period ended, the Tigers had fashioned a 38 to 32 lead which they never relinquished.

Although Westerville tried a comeback in the final frame, their efforts were unsuccessful as the Tigers hung on for their all important victory decision.

Johnson was high scorer for CHS with 17 tallies, giving him a total of 44 in two tournament games. Parcher, Fraser and Hosler, each with 10 points, accounted for most of the other Tiger scoring.

Billman was high for Westerville with 15 counters. Meyer contributed 11, all on foul shots.

Without a doubt the Tigers will have their hands full Monday night when they meet Columbus East. Although the East cagers have a mediocre record of 14 wins and six losses, one of their victories was a decision over Columbus North, considered to be one of the strongest teams in this area.

Earlier in the season, the East quintet was barely defeated in an overtime by Middletown, currently rated as the number two team in the state.

DESPITE the Columbus school's potential, Coach Courtney said that his cagers are determined to go all out when the two teams meet. "If we can stop them from out front, plus get a few breaks under the basket, anything can happen," Courtney added.

The contest will be the only one scheduled for the evening. It is set for 8 p. m.

Indiana Favored To Grab Big Ten Indoor Track Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio. — Olympic broadjump champion Greg Bell was expected to usher a well-balanced Indiana University team to the 47th annual Big Ten Track field indoor title today — the first Hoosier crown since 1941.

Bell led 13 Indiana qualifiers in nine events into today's finals with a soaring 25-foot 7-inch broad jump in Friday night's tests — the second best leap in indoor history. Only the 25-foot 9-inch manufactured by the incomparable Jesse Owens of Ohio State in 1935, exceeded Bell's third try effort.

The jump broke Bell's own conference mark of 24 feet 11½ inches set a year ago. In the qualifier he went about 22 feet on his first jump, faltered on his second, and then came up with the clincher. He passed his fourth try.

Rival coaches conceded following the trials that Indiana had the laurels locked up, and predicted a slam-bang battle between defending champion Michigan, Michigan State and Ohio State for runner-up honors. Northwestern showed surprising talent in the qualifiers and was conceded fifth place.

In Friday night's tests, back of Indiana's 13 qualifiers, Ohio State and Northwestern placed nine in the finals. Michigan and Michigan State had eight each, Iowa five, Illinois and Minnesota four, and Purdue and Wisconsin three. No tests were held in the shot, pole vault, high jump, mile relay and the mile and two-mile runs.

Indiana, in dominating the qualifiers, landed at least one entrant in each of the nine events, and placed two in the broad jump, 440-yard run and both 70-yard hurdle race.

Michigan State's Dave Lean, a member of the Australian Olympic team, was an easy victor in the quarter-mile and 600-yard races, missing the conference 440-yard record by only a 10th of a second with a 49.3 effort which was far from all-out.

Glenn Davis of Ohio, winner of the 400-meter hurdles in the Olympics, qualified in the 60-yard dash, both hurdles and the broad jump and was expected to keep the Bucks, hosts to the big meet for the first time, in the running.

Laird Sloan of Michigan, member of the Canadian Olympic squad, won his heat in the 440-yard run in 50.2 seconds, un-pressed.

Michigan's Dave Owen is conceded the shot put in the afternoon finals. Only four Americans have ever tossed the shot over 59 feet, and Owen is one of them.

133 Nominated For Annual Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Some of America's finest three-year-olds were listed today among the 133 horses nominated for the 83rd running of the Kentucky Derby.

The eligible list, which did not include any fillies, was smaller than last year when 169 were nominated. The record number was 196 in 1928.

The race will be run May 4 at Churchill Downs, with the track adding $125,000 to the money put up by owners to nominate, enter and start their hopefuls in the 1¼ mile classic. It costs $100 to nominate a horse; another $250 to enter; and $1,250 to start in the derby, which shapes up as a wide-open affair this year.

Michigan State's assistant wrestling coach Gale Mikles won the NCAA 155-pound wrestling title in 1947.

North Carolina Undefeated In Entire Season

Duke Is Final Victim
Of Nation's No. 1
College Cage Outfit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
They're not just a - whistlin' Dixie down in North Carolina today. They're shouting it from the rooftops, loud and clear.
The reason for the waving of the Stars and Bars? The University of North Carolina's basketball team, naturally. The Tar Heels, ranked first in the nation, swept through their regularly scheduled 24-game season undefeated. It was the first such season since 1924.

Victim No. 24 tumbled Friday night when Duke lost to the McGuiremen in an Atlantic Coast Conference spine-tingler, 86-72.
While North Carolina was cementing a 13-0 record in ACC play, other conferences were busy with pressing matters.

In the Southern Conference, West Virginia, playing without ailing Rod Hundley, stumbled to a 77-75 victory over George Washington to finish its regular season unbeaten in family play.

In the Southeastern, Tulane spanked Louisiana State 59-51 and Alabama trimmed Auburn 81-79. That left Tulane, Georgia Tech and Mississippi State in a final three-way tie for third place in the SEC with 9-5 records. Auburn finished in sixth with an 8-6 mark; Alabama took seventh place with a 7-7 record.

LSU's 1-13 SEC record was the worst in the career of Coach Harry Rabenhorst, who is retiring after 29 years with the Tigers.

Brigham Young stopped New Mexico 67-41 to clinch at least a tie for the Skyline Conference crown. The title will be at stake tonight, along with a berth in the NCAA regional tournament in Corvallis, Ore., when BYU plays Denver. Denver's title hopes disappeared Friday night when Utah State beat the Pioneers 64-60. And Montana kept in the running for a share of the title by spilling Wyoming 81-78, while Utah was downing Colorado A&M 74-64.

UCLA regained the hotly contested lead in the Pacific Coast Conference, nosing out California 71-66. That left UCLA with a 12-2 conference record to California's 11-2 going into another game between the rivals tonight in Berkeley. A UCLA victory tonight will give the Bruins at least a tie for the conference title. In another PPC battle, Southern California defeated Oregon 87-82.

Jenkins Family Keeping Monopoly

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — The men's singles title of the world figure skating championship will, in all probability, remain in the United States with the Jenkins family.
Never before has a skater succeeded his brother as world titleholder. David Jenkins, 20-year-old collegian, holds a solid advantage going into tonight's free skating final. Should he win, he'll take over from his brother, Hayes Alan, who retired after four years at the top.

Garcia Depends On Knuckle Ball

TUCSON, Ariz. — A knuckle ball which he developed last season may help Mike Garcia regain the form he displayed in 1952 when he won 22 games.
When he arrived in training camp here Friday he said the knuckle ball could make him a 20-game winner this year.

Tigers Earn Second In District Cage Tourney

Surge In Final Half Downs Westerville, 54-42;
Next Test Slated Monday With Columbus East

Circleville's cage Tigers registered their second victory in the Central District Class "AA" basketball tournament and a berth in the semi-finals by posting a 52-44 win over Westerville last night at Denison University in Granville.

By virtue of their big victory the Tigers will meet the powerful cagers of Columbus East High School Monday night at Denison. The Columbus squad also won last night, gaining a 65-55 decision over Gahanna Lincoln.

Circleville's victory over Westerville's Wildcats was due mainly to a valiant second half uphull struggle which saw the Tigers overcome a serious 23 to 15 halftime deficit that had local fans worried. However, the CHS cagemen roared in the third quarter with a sudden rally that completely stunned the Westerville cagers for the remainder of the game.

APPEARENTLY fired up by a halftime briefing by Coach Red Courtney, the Roundtowners really got down to business shortly after the last half tip-off as they outscored their opponents 23-9 in the third frame, good enough for a 38 to 32 lead.

Not to be denied, the locals continued their relentless attack in the final period to again outscore the Wildcats, 14 to 12, to preserve a well-earned decision.

Just as Circleville dominated play in the second half, it was all Westerville the first two quarters as the score well-indicated.

For the first few minutes of play the Tigers were unable to buy a basket. To make things worse they missed their first five foul shot attempts.

Westerville jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead on three foul shots by Ron Meyer and a side shot by Neal Billman. Bob Fraser put Circleville in the scoring column with a jump shot from underneath.

For the remainder of the quarter the best Circleville could do was a tip in by Jon Parcher. Westerville, meanwhile, racked up six more tallies for a 11-4 lead.

THE Tigers did a little better in the second quarter, collecting 11 points, compared to 12 for their opponents. Bill Johnson proved to be the mainstay in this quarter for the locals as he hit for eight points.

For Westerville it was Billman and Meyer leading the way in the scoring department. After gaining what seemed to be a comfortable lead, the Wildcats suddenly switched tactics to go into a stall which made things difficult for the Tigers as far as scoring was concerned.

Although the Tigers were not impressive in the first half, they suddenly turned the tables in the third frame when Johnson, Krinn, Hosler and Fraser all combined to give the locals a potent scoring punch.

Johnson got things started for Circleville with two buckets from underneath. Krinn followed suit with a long one and Mike Hosler then proceeded to break things wide open as he collected six straight points to put the Tigers in front for the first time, 27 to 26.

Fraser got into the act by dropping in a two-pointer after stealing the ball from an opponent.

However, Westerville regained the lead, 32-31, a few moments later when Billman swished a jump shot and Bill Schneider added a bucket and two foul shots.

HOSLER then pushed Circleville in front again on a long one-handed effort which made the score 33 to 32. By the time the third period ended, the Tigers had fashioned a 38 to 32 lead which they never relinquished.

Although Westerville tried a comeback in the final frame, their efforts were unsuccessful as the Tigers hung on for their all important tourney decision.

Johnson was high scorer for CHS with 17 tallies, giving him a total of 44 in two tournament games. Parcher, Fraser and Hosler, each with 10 points, accounted for most of the other Tiger scoring.

Billman was high for Westerville with 15 counters. Meyer contributed 11, all on foul shots.

Without a doubt the Tigers will have their hands full Monday night when they meet Columbus East. Although the East cagers

Indiana Favored To Grab Big Ten Indoor Track Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio. — Olympic broadjump champion Greg Bell was expected to usher a well-balanced Indiana University team to the 47th annual Big Ten Trackfield indoor title today — the first Hoosier crown since 1941.

Bell led 13 Indiana qualifiers in nine events into today's finals with a soaring 25-foot 7-inch broad jump in Friday night's tests — the second best leap in indoor history. Only the 25-foot 9-inch manufactured by the incomparable Jesse Owens of Ohio State in Madison Square Garden Feb. 23, 1935, exceeded Bell's third try effort.

The jump broke Bell's own conference mark of 24 feet 11½ inches set a year ago. In the qualifier he went about 22 feet on his first jump, faulted on his second, and then came up with the clincher. He passed his fourth try.

Rival coaches conceded following the trials that Indiana had the laurels locked up, and predicted a slam-bang battle between defending champion Michigan, Michigan State and Ohio State for runner-up honors. Northwestern showed surprising talent in the qualifiers and was conceded fifth place.

In Friday night's tests, back of Indiana's 13 qualifiers, Ohio State and Northwestern placed nine in the finals. Michigan and Michigan State had eight each, Iowa five, Illinois and Minnesota four, and Purdue and Wisconsin three. No tests were held in the shot, pole vault, high jump, mile relay and the mile and two-mile runs.

Indiana, in dominating the qualifiers, landed at least one entrant in each of the nine events, and placed two in the broad jump, 440-yard run and both 70-yard hurdle race.

Michigan State's Dave Lean, a member of the Australian Olympic team, was an easy victor in the quarter-mile and 600-yard races, missing the conference 440-yard record by only a 10th of a second with a 49.3 effort which was far from all-out.

Glenn Davis of Ohio, winner of the 400-meter hurdles in the Olympics, qualified in the 60-yard dash, both hurdles and the broad jump and was expected to keep the Bucks, hosts to the big meet for the first time, in the running.

Laird Sloan of Michigan, member of the Canadian Olympic squad, won his heat in the 440-yard run in 50.2 seconds, unopposed.

Michigan's Dave Owen is conceded the shot put in the afternoon finals. Only four Americans have ever tossed the shot over 59 feet, and Owen is one of them.

133 Nominated For Annual Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Some of America's finest three-year-olds were listed today among the 133 horses nominated for the 83rd running of the Kentucky Derby.

The eligible list, which did not include any fillies, was smaller than last year when 169 were nominated. The record number was 196 in 1928.

The race will be run May 4 at Churchill Downs, with the track adding $125,000 to the money put up by owners to nominate, enter and start their hopefuls in the 1¼ mile classic. It costs $100 to nominate a horse; another $250 to enter; and $1,250 to start in the derby, which shapes up as a wide-open affair this year.

Michigan State's assistant wrestling coach Gale Mikles won the NCAA 155-pound wrestling title in 1947.

Mail A La Cart Style Seen Big Relief For Tired Feet

WASHINGTON — The mailman's feet are getting a break at last, and the trend throughout the country to suburban living deserves much of the credit.

Post Office department officials here reveal that recent experiments in expediting the mail from the local post office to private mail boxes have been so successful that more motorized and non-motorized devices are on the way to speed mail carriers along.

When the program is completed it is expected that the public will get better mail service; economies will be effected for the government and the taxpayers, and the work of the carriers will be less burdensome so that the old joke of the "postman's holiday" being a hike no longer will be ironical enough to evoke a chuckle.

Most novel and promising of the powered vehicles is the one-fourth ton, three-wheel and four-wheel lightweight covered vehicles. An elaboration on the motor scooter, 300 have been tried out successfully in test locations and have made such a hit that 1,500 are on order.

Several special designs for areas with rough terrain and weather conditions are being developed.

BORROWING an idea from the milkman, the Post Office department has placed in service more than three thousand three-quarter ton, sit-or-stand trucks with right-hand drive.

These are vehicles which finally ousted the trusty old horse from milk routes, because deliverymen can jump in and out of them with little difficulty while the truck idles at the curb between short trips. These also are obvious advantages for mail delivery.

Bicycles have been a fixture with European mail delivery systems for a long time, and will be put to maximum use throughout the U. S. Already there are more than 3,000 "bike" routes.

For the carrier who still must keep his feet on the ground most of the time, the burden is being lightened by hand carts, both the container type and the satchel-carrying type.

Delight of mailmen is this all-weather, three-wheel scooter. Some 1,500 now are on order.

The latter are an ingenious adaptation of the golf bag "caddy," and about 500 now are in use, with several thousand more being purchased. Patrons along some of the routes have gone together and bought carts for their mailmen, sometimes making quite a ceremony of the presentation.

Department officials stress that the mailman is not going "soft" by any means, pointing out that "the unprecedented movement of population to suburban communities has necessitated major changes in mail delivery methods."

FORMERLY, with closer concentration within city limits, it was comparatively easy to provide delivery service by foot carriers toting the mail on their backs. Also, their routes usually began at convenient distances from the post office or postal station; or if not,

facilities were adequate to transport them back and forth.

Now things are entirely different in many localities, with large groups of homes being built beyond existing city limits, and demands for city carrier service increasing steadily. Transportation for carriers to and from many routes is lacking, they explain.

Moreover, there is far more mail to carry now than ever before. The number of pieces handled by the whole system has more than doubled since 1940, and besides, people are writing more letters than ever, the year-by-year increase being materially greater than the growth of population.

The mailman still rings twice, and his code of getting the mail through no matter what, remains the same; however, the Post Office department has discovered the wheel in a big way, and the service that uses the extinct Pony Express for a trade mark now goes rolling along toward a whole new set of traditions.

Construction Industry Set To Hit Stride

Builders Get Warning To Keep Close Watch On Big Plant Plans

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The construction industry roars into March still one of the liveliest items in the economy.

But builders are warned to watch the course of contract awards in the next few weeks to see whether the big industrial building boom is hitting its peak.

Washington now looks for industrial construction to rise about 5 per cent over 1956, a notable tapering off from the 30 per cent gains last year over 1955.

Demand for other types of construction—highways, schools and the like—will keep the supply of structural steel tight, and may delay some industrial building plans. Higher costs of financing the expansion program could be another dampener.

Figures out this week show that total construction contracts awarded in January were 4 per cent over the same month last year, with manufacturing companies chalking up the biggest gains. This reversed a declining trend in the final months of 1956.

Commercial construction awards—office buildings, stores—also rose in January. Public works awards declined in January from year ago levels. But a reversal of this is expected later in the year as school and road programs get under way.

Tight supplies of structural steel may hamper some building plans, the Assn. of State Planning and Development Agencies was warned by Department of Commerce officials at a Washington meeting this week. The officials added that the price of steel had moved up since last November more than the department had expected.

The steel industry, just like everyone else, is feeling the rising costs of industrial building and of equipping plants. Russell L. Peters, chairman of the finance committee of Inland Steel, points out that it now costs 3½ times the original price to replace a steel mill built 25 years ago.

The industry is trying to increase capacity to produce structural and other types of steel, Peters adds, but is handicapped by the high costs.

He also takes the occasion of a talk to the Los Angeles Society of Security Analysts to stress the steel industry's demand for a revision of the tax laws. The industry wants depreciation allowances to be based on current replacement costs rather than on the original cost.

Many industries are turning to new financing to get funds for expansion and to bolster their working capital, which has been pinched by rising costs of doing business.

Ohio Hog Prices Show Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—Prices for butcher hogs averaged 10 cents per 100 pounds lower than last week while sows remained steady, the Ohio Dept. of Agriculture reported today.

Prices paid for No. 2 butcher hogs averaged $16.85. Lightweight sows were $15.25-15.75 with some as high as $16. The average price of butcher hogs during February was $17.11 as compared with January's $18.16.

Remember? 25 Years Ago, Lindbergh Baby Kidnaped from Crib, Killed

HOPEWELL, N. J. (AP)—Twenty-five years ago tonight, Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was kidnaped from his crib.

The intervening years have produced no evidence to challenge the state's theory that Bruno Richard Hauptmann perpetrated the nation's most famous kidnapping case.

H. Norman Schwarzkopf, who as head of the New Jersey state police directed the search which led to Hauptmann's arrest, observes today:

"Not only has there been no new evidence, but I do not see how there could be."

Hauptmann, a sullen 36-year-old Bronx, N.Y. carpenter, died in the electric chair for the crime, but not before New Jersey's governor, the late Harold G. Hoffman, intervened in his behalf.

Hoffman paid a secret visit to Hauptmann in the Trenton death house in his effort to get "a complete solution" of the case which he said "reeked of unfairness, prejudice and passion." He granted one 30-day reprieve, but apparently found no justification for a second.

Yet, shortly before his death in 1934, Hoffman had remarked, "I believe that the crime was committed by more than one person."

The Lindbergh kidnapping shocked the nation.

Charles A. Lindbergh, idolized since his solo flight across the Atlantic in 1927, had sought privacy in a new home in the Sourland Mountains here.

He and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, were in their 2½-story whitewashed house unexpectedly that raw, windy night of March 1, 1932, because their only son, Charles Jr., 19 months old, had a cold. They had spent a weekend there and delayed their return to the home of Mrs. Lindbergh's mother in Englewood.

As the Lindberghs talked in a downstairs room, they heard a noise which Lindbergh dismissed as a rustling of the wind. But he said later it sounded like "the top slats of an orange box falling off a chair." He fixed the time at about 9:10.

Fifty minutes later, a nursemaid found the baby missing from his crib. On the window was a crude note demanding $50,000 ransom. On the ground nearby was a three-piece ladder—broken in one place—and a chisel.

They were the only clues, but they figured importantly in solving the case.

Through Dr. John F. Jafise Condon, an intermediary, Lindbergh paid the $50,000 ransom the night of April 2 in a Bronx cemetery to a man behind a hedge who directed, "Hey doctor, doctor, over here!"

The man behind the hedge passed to Dr. Condon a note as crudely written as previous ones which said, "The boy is on the boat Nelly."

Lindbergh was still seeking the boat off the Virginia Capes on May 12 when word came to him that the child's body had been found in a shallow grave five miles from home.

"The search for the kidnaper was intensified.

Circulars carrying the serial numbers of the ransom money, $35,000 in gold certificates and $15,000 in other paper currency,

Wild Driver, 32, Held As Drunk

TOLEDO (AP)—A motorist fleeing police paced a wild, 90-mile-an-hour chase through evening rush traffic.

The chase ended as the car careened across the Civic Center Mall and stopped.

Howard W. Ross, 32, was charged with drunk driving. Police said he ran 18 red lights and narrowly missed having six head-on collisions.

The chase started when off-duty Patrolman Chester Matuszak said he heard Ross tell two patrons in a tavern, "You have only 10 minutes to live." Matuszak tried to question him and Ross ran to his car and sped off.

Stassen Ordered Under Dulles' Wing

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has directed Harold E. Stassen, his disarmament aide, to operate from now on under the policy guidance of Secretary of State Dulles instead of reporting directly to the President.

Dulles said the shift means "no change" in Stassen's title as a special assistant to the President on disarmament matters.

There have been reports that Dulles has been dissatisfied with operation of Stassen's office as what in effect has been a foreign policy function independent of the State Department.

Mail A La Cart Style Seen Big Relief For Tired Feet

WASHINGTON — The mailman's feet are getting a break at last, and the trend throughout the country to suburban living deserves much of the credit.

Post Office department officials here reveal that recent experiments in expediting the mail from the local post office to private mail boxes have been so successful that more motorized and non-motorized devices are on the way to speed mail carriers along.

When the program is completed it is expected that the public will get better mail service; economies will be effected for the government and the taxpayers, and the work of the carriers will be less burdensome so that the old joke of the "postman's holiday" being a hike no longer will be ironic enough to evoke a chuckle.

Most novel and promising of the powered vehicles is the one-fourth ton, three-wheel and four-wheel lightweight covered vehicles. An elaboration on the motor scooter, 300 have been tried out successfully in test locations and have made such a hit that 1,500 are on order.

Several special designs for areas with rough terrain and weather conditions are being developed.

BORROWING an idea from the milkman, the Post Office department has placed in service more than three thousand three-quarter ton, sit-or-stand trucks with right-hand drive.

These are vehicles which finally ousted the trusty old horse from milk routes, because deliverymen can jump in and out of them with little difficulty while the truck idles at the curb between short trips. These also are obvious advantages for mail delivery.

Bicycles have been a fixture with European mail delivery systems for a long time, and will be put to maximum use throughout the U. S. Already there are more than 3,000 "bike" routes.

For the carrier who still must keep his feet on the ground most of the time, the burden is being lightened by hand carts, both the container type and the satchel-carrying type.

The latter are an ingenious adaptation of the golf bag "caddy," and about 500 now are in use, with several thousand more being purchased. Patrons along some of the routes have gone together and bought carts for their mailmen, sometimes making quite a ceremony of the presentation.

Department officials stress that the mailman is not going "soft" by any means, pointing out that "the unprecedented movement of population to suburban communities has necessitated major changes in mail delivery methods."

FORMERLY, with closer concentration within city limits, it was comparatively easy to provide delivery service by foot carriers toting the mail on their backs. Also, their routes usually began at convenient distances from the post office or postal station; or if not,

facilities were adequate to transport them back and forth.

Now things are entirely different in many localities, with large groups of homes being built beyond existing city limits, and demands for city carrier service increasing steadily. Transportation for carriers to and from many routes is lacking, they explain.

Moreover, there is far more mail to carry now than ever before. The number of pieces handled by the whole system has more than doubled since 1940, and besides, people are writing more letters than ever, the year-by-year increase being materially greater than the growth of population.

The mailman still rings twice, and his code of getting the mail through no matter what, remains the same; however, the Post Office department has discovered the wheel in a big way, and the service that uses the extinct Pony Express for a trade mark now goes rolling along toward a whole new set of traditions.

Construction Industry Set To Hit Stride

Builders Get Warning To Keep Close Watch On Big Plant Plans

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The construction industry roars into March still one of the liveliest items in the economy.

But builders are warned to watch the course of contract awards in the next few weeks to see whether the big industrial building boom is hitting its peak.

Washington now looks for industrial construction to rise about 5 per cent over 1956, a notable tapering off from the 30 per cent gains last year over 1955.

Demand for other types of construction—highways, schools and the like—will keep the supply of structural steel tight, and may delay some industrial building plans. Higher costs of financing the expansion program could be another dampener.

Figures out this week show that total construction contracts awarded in January were 4 per cent over the same month last year, with manufacturing companies chalking up the biggest gains. This reversed a declining trend in the final months of 1956.

Commercial construction awards—office buildings, stores—also rose in January. Public works awards declined in January from year ago levels. But a reversal of this is expected later in the year as school and road programs get under way.

Tight supplies of structural steel may hamper some building plans. The Assn. of State Planning and Development Agencies was warned by Department of Commerce officials at a Washington meeting this week. The officials added that the price of steel had moved up since last November more than the department had expected.

The steel industry, just like everyone else, is feeling the rising costs of industrial building and of equipping plants. Russell L. Peters, chairman of the finance committee of Inland Steel, points out that it now costs 3½ times the original price to replace a steel mill built 25 years ago.

The industry is trying to increase capacity to produce structural and other types of steel. Peters adds, but is handicapped by the high costs.

He also takes the occasion of a talk to the Los Angeles Society of Security Analysts to stress the steel industry's demand for a revision of the tax laws. The industry wants depreciation allowances to be based on current replacement costs rather than on the original cost.

Many industries are turning to new financing to get funds for expansion and to bolster their working capital, which has been pinched by rising costs of doing business.

Ohio Hog Prices Show Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—Prices for butcher hogs averaged 10 cents per 100 pounds lower than last week while sows remained steady, the Ohio Dept. of Agriculture reported today.

Prices paid for No. 2 butcher hogs averaged $16.85. Lightweight sows were $15.25-15.75 with some as high as $16. The average price of butcher hogs during February was $17.11 as compared with January's $18.16.

Liquor Aide Named

COLUMBUS (AP)—Robert E. Wenling of Lakewood, a certified public accountant, is the new comptroller of the Department of Liquor Control. His appointment was announced this week by Director Robert B. Krupansky.

Remember? 25 Years Ago, Lindbergh Baby Kidnaped from Crib, Killed

HOPEWELL, N. J. (AP)—Twenty-five years ago tonight, Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was kidnaped from his crib.

The intervening years have produced no evidence to challenge the state's theory that Bruno Richard Hauptmann perpetrated the nation's most famous kidnapping case.

H. Norman Schwarzkopf, who as head of the New Jersey state police directed the search which led to Hauptmann's arrest, observes today:

"Not only has there been no new evidence, but I do not see how there could be."

Hauptmann, a sullen 36-year-old Bronx, N.Y. carpenter, died in the electric chair for the crime, but not before New Jersey's governor, the late Harold G. Hoffman, intervened in his behalf.

Hoffman paid a secret visit to Hauptmann in the Trenton death house in his effort to get "a complete solution" of the case which he said "reeked of unfairness, prejudice and passion."

He granted one 30-day reprieve, but apparently found no justification for a second.

Yet, shortly before his death in 1934, Hoffman had remarked, "I believe that the crime was committed by more than one person."

The Lindbergh kidnapping shocked the nation.

Charles A. Lindbergh, idolized since his solo flight across the Atlantic in 1927, had sought privacy in a new home in the Sourland Mountains here.

He and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, were in their 2½-story whitewashed house unexpectedly that raw, windy night of March 1, 1932, because their only son, Charles Jr., 19 months old, had a cold. They had spent a weekend there and delayed their return to the home of Mrs. Lindbergh's mother in Englewood.

As the Lindberghs talked in a downstairs room, they heard a noise which Lindbergh dismissed as a rustling of the wind. But he said later it sounded like "the top slats of an orange box falling off a chair." He fixed the time at about 9:10.

Fifty minutes later, a nurse-maid found the baby missing from his crib. On the window was a crude note demanding $50,000 ransom. On the ground nearby was a three-piece ladder—broken in one place—and a chisel.

They were the only clues, but they figured importantly in solving the case.

Through Dr. John F. Jafie Condon, an intermediary, Lindbergh paid the $50,000 ransom the night of April 2 in a Bronx cemetery to a man behind a hedge who directed, "Hey doctor, doctor, over here!"

The man behind the hedge passed to Dr. Condon a note as crudely written as previous ones which said, "The boy is on the boat Nelly."

Lindbergh was still seeking the boat off the Virginia Capes on May 12 when word came to him that the child's body had been found in a shallow grave five miles from home.

The search for the kidnaper was intensified.

Circulars carrying the serial numbers of the ransom money, $35,000 in gold certificates and $15,000 in other paper currency, were distributed throughout the nation. When President Roosevelt called in all gold certificates, a depression measure, banks quietly got a new alert to watch for ransom bills.

A motorist gave a $10 gold note to a Bronx gas station attendant on Sept. 14, 1934. The attendant jotted the auto license numbers on the bill. The trail led to Hauptmann, who was arrested four days later. He had a $20 ransom gold note in his possession, and in his garage police found $14,600 more.

The state's star witness was Arthur Koehler, a wood technologist of the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory of Madison, Wis.

Koehler spent nearly two years tracing the wood in the kidnap ladder. He traced one piece from a lumber mill in South Carolina to the Bronx lumber yard where Hauptmann was a customer. He said another piece had once been part of a floor board in Hauptmann's attic. Koehler said also that the chisel found near the ladder had been used building it.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 2

Selecting the Correct Form Saves Tax Dollars

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

The government gives you the alternative of using the simplified income tax form 1040-A, the "short form" 1040, or the "long form" 1040, depending on the amount and circumstances of your income. Selection of the wrong form may cost you unnecessary tax dollars.

The easiest form to fill is the 1040-A, and according to Treasury records, one out of four taxpayers use it. To be eligible to file a 1040-A, your total income must be less than $5,000, consisting entirely of wages subject to withholding of taxes, dividends, and interest, providing not more than $100 of such income came from a source outside that listed on your W-2 slips). The simplified form makes no provision for "Head of Household" status or itemized deductions.

If you use this form the government will figure your tax and send you either a refund or a bill. If you so desire, however, for the first time this year, you can compute your own tax on form 1040-A and either send in the balance due with the return or show thereon the amount of refund you have coming.

Whether to Itemize

Should you decide to use the regular form 1040 you still have the choice of itemizing deductions or using a standard deduction which amounts to about 10 percent of your income. If your income was less than $5,000 and you use the standard deduction, you determine your tax from the special table given in the instruction book.

You are likely to save by itemizing if you:

- (1) Own real estate
- (2) Had unusual medical expenses
- (3) Had deductible child-care expense
- (4) Suffered losses from fire, storm, accident or theft
- (5) Made fairly large contributions

It is important to remember that if you incur such expenses as transportation, meals or lodging in connection with your work, check carefully the instruction book to find how these expenses may be deducted even though you decide to use the standard deduction.

If your deductions are close to 10 percent, it is wise to itemize them and figure your tax both ways to see which results in the smaller tax. As the Treasury Department has pointed out: "The law expects you to pay your correct tax—no more—no less."

Married Couples

Most married couples save tax dollars by filing a joint return instead of separate returns. This is because the tax is figured on a joint return as if the husband and wife each had one-half the total income (even though the wife may actually have had no income). Income-splitting, as it is called, may bring the couple down into a lower tax bracket.

Watch for the exceptions, however. If you had capital losses or unusually high medical expenses, you will be wise to figure both joint and separately to see which results in less tax.

If you are supporting a dependent and maintain a home for that person although you are single, widowed, divorced or legally separated, you may be able to qualify as a "head of household," and figure your tax on a special table which gives you part of the advantage enjoyed by married couples filing joint returns.

Surviving Spouse

Also, if your husband or wife died in 1954 or 1955, and you have as a member of your household a dependent child or stepchild, you are entitled as a "surviving spouse" to the same income-splitting benefits this year as you would have on a joint return—unless you remarried before the end of 1956. The privilege to file as a surviving spouse applies to the first two years following the year in which your husband or wife died.

The instruction book which comes with your tax forms gives further information. Help is also available by telephone or at offices of the Internal Revenue Service. The Revenue Service urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you decide to seek outside help.

Wild Driver, 32, Held As Drunk

TOLEDO (AP)—A motorist fleeing police paced a wild, 90-mile-an-hour chase through evening rush traffic.

The chase ended as the car careened across the Civic Center Mall and stopped.

Howard W. Ross, 32, was charged with drunk driving. Police said he ran 18 red lights and narrowly missed having six head-on collisions.

The chase started when off-duty Patrolman Chester Matuszak said he heard Ross tell two patrons in a tavern, "You have only 10 minutes to live." Matuszak tried to question him and Ross ran to his car and sped off.

Stassen Ordered Under Dulles' Wing

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has directed Harold E. Stassen, his disarmament aide, to operate from now on under the policy guidance of Secretary of State Dulles instead of reporting directly to the President.

Dulles said the shift means "no change" in Stassen's title as a special assistant to the President on disarmament matters.

There have been reports that Dulles has been dissatisfied with operation of Stassen's office as what in effect has been a foreign policy function independent of the State Department.
